PROJECT DESCRIPTION

This exciting new game is currently in "Final Beta" Testing Mode

The landing page for this game displays a different banner for each Caribbean Country that is supported by this game. Each displayed Country banner provides the participating country with its own unique "Splash Page". Each banner allows that country represented by its banner to present its unique, country-specific information or additional links at its discretion. When a player signs-up and logs-in from that specific page banner, the represented country will directly benefit whenever players purchase subscriptions from their newly created player account. The Place Your Chips lottery ticket game is based on a poker card game that billions of people love to play. Place Your Chips ticket holders play their poker hands for points on their own computers on a privately coded protected screen managed by the lottery. Ticket holders are granted Poker Play Points when they purchase an annual membership subscription. Ticket holder players compete for more points as they play their hands on their computers.

Atlantic West Management's Place Your Chips lottery game rules are played like the Texas Hold'em version of poker. It is played on the ticket holder's computer or Mobile Phone or Tablet against other anonymous ticket holders during a specific tournament timeframe.

Players may play poker as long as they have points remaining on a ticket and may apply these points to conventional pick lottery tickets which they can redeem at any time from their personal game account.
